

ALBERESQUE LIBRARY MARLENA
BY WILLIAM YEOWARD

The excitement found in my two collections Marlena and Alberesque is palpable! I have been fascinated by the textiles of China from the C18th and of late have been studying the blues, whites and woad colours used to make up these exotic and textural designs.

"I love to take something old and dusty that has been forgotten and breathe new life into it with colour, texture and lashings of enthusiasm! After all, one ignores the influences of the past at one's peril."

Now to my first plains collection "Library". Three ravishing qualities all perfect for today's interiors.

Saskia is organic, multi-textured and steeped with layers of colour. Shown in 26 ravishing shades, it offers variety and diversity in any decorative scheme from ultra modern contemporary to rich country house classic.

Yvette, a simple velvet must be the staple to any stable of upholstery cloths. Elegant, luxurious and totally timeless and being non-directional can be used for trimming, piping, backing and simply as an accent.

26 colours of Highland linen are my "go to" when planning a decorative scheme.

Alberesque came to me as an idea having studied the tracery shapes and circles I had noted in India. I see those marbled halls of Rajasthan with their intricate carvings and rather wonderful expressions of shape and form and have enjoyed transposing them onto cloth with print and an overlay of embroidery.
